McGrail Confident

New Junior High Building Will Be Ready For School Opening

By John P. Sawyer

The Doherty Junior High School principal is confident the new building will be ready to open when classes begin this September. "I've got no reason," said Dr. Richard McGrail this week, "to have anything but confidence in this outfit (Peabody Construction Co.)."

In a letter to the school committee last week, McGrail noted he had toured the building under construction and had been assured by Thomas Reed, general superintendent for the Peabody Construction Co., that the school department would be able to move into the new facility by the middle of August.

McGrail said he was also told moving-in could begin now in some areas in the new wing where there will be no carpeting.

"My own feeling is that the building will indeed be substantially complete, with the exception of the Memorial Wing, by the above date," he wrote, "but that there will still be a substantial amount of finish work to be completed."

There are no backup plans in place if the Doherty School is for some reason not ready on time, according to McGrail. The old East Junior High is without heat and has only temporary electricity. Double sessions at the West Junior High would have to have been planned far in advance of this date.

McGrail said the town has made up its mind to accept a speeded-up schedule for opening the Doherty. Alternatives would have been to delay opening the school for another year or else opening the school during the upcoming school year, which would have meant extending a vacation period and disrupting the school schedule.

He said the Doherty School, even at less than 100 percent complete, would be in far better shape for classes than the old East Junior High. Now the school department must depend on the builders to get the Doherty ready.

The kitchen at the Doherty is almost fully equipped already, and the industrial arts department will be next, according to the school building project coordinator. Desks and chairs will be the last items to be moved-in.

As areas of the school are finished, they are checked out and determined acceptable before materials are moved in. Areas moved into are accepted on a tentative basis. Formal acceptance of the building will not happen until everything is completed.

By August 16, "It will basically be ready," said McGrail.

That does not include a little left-over painting and carpentry that might be required. He said no heavy electrical work or anything else that could be a safety factor will be on-going when classes resume this September.

But McGrail noted it would not be "realistic" to expect that every window will be washed and every light bulb in place for the opening of school. Landscaping, for example, might not be completed.

He said Jan. 1 is the outside date for completion of the Memorial Wing, and that would also probably be the latest date for any other possible remaining work to be finished at the Doherty.

The school committee has set Oct. 1, or three weeks after the Doherty School is occupied, for transferring the old East Junior High wings to the town. Developers will be sought to convert the wings into combined school-town offices.

The school building project coordinator still has not received any firm completion dates for either the West Junior High or the High School projects. He said he expects essential renovations at the West, such as the science labs, to be completed for this school year, as well as much of the work at the high school.

Work will probably continue during the fall on the guidance area and the media center extension at the high school, he said, and the auditorium will probably not be finished until next spring.

McGrail noted he expected no major interference with the educational program because of the on-going work.

Autograph Session

Salary Increases Approved

Andover's top three school administrators will receive an extra $11,770 next year.

Pay hikes approved by the school committee last week included:

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert: $3,360, from $48,000 to $51,360;

Assistant Superintendent Charles Mitsakos: $2,660, from $38,000 to $40,660;

Business Manager Francis Paul: began after the start of the fiscal year and earned $30,000 last year. He will now earn $35,750.

The raises were retroactive to July 1.

A recent school committee evaluation of Seifert yielded high marks for the superintendent.

Reimbursements, State Charges Increase

Andover is scheduled to receive $4,804,350 in reimbursements from the state during Fiscal Year 1983, according to Cherry Sheet figures released this past week. The total reimbursements, which are estimated at this point, are $451,285 higher than the $4,353,065 the town was scheduled to receive this past fiscal year.

The town will be paying an additional $17,045.71 this next fiscal year for state and county costs. Andover has been assessed $893,553.75 for its contribution toward operation of state and county services as compared to $876,508.04 for Fiscal year 1982.

State assistance to regional school districts in the next year will result in the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School receiving $4,077,485 in the next fiscal year, an increase of $134,659.

The disbursements are part of the $2.1 million in state aid to all cities and towns as certified by the Department of Revenue.

Gypsy Moth Cocoons Under Foil

When the gypsy moth caterpillar siege was upon us, bands of aluminum foil sprouted up on trees all over town. One resident called the TOWNSMAN last week to report that they may have an unexpected benefit: cutting down on next year's crop of the nasty insects.

The caller explained that when she removed the foil from her oak trees last week, she found large numbers of cocoons nestled in the bark underneath. She found it a good opportunity to get rid of the cocoons, and suggested that other homeowners may wish to take a good look under the foil on their own trees.

The resident added that she found far more cocoons under the oaks, with their gnarled bark, than under her birch trees, which have a smooth bark.

To Establish Memorial Scholarship

A scholarship in memory of Alfio Graceffa, former band director at Andover High School for the past ten years, is being sponsored by the Andover Band Parents Association. The scholarship will be presented to a graduating senior.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the scholarship fund may forward donations to the Andover Savings Bank, Customer Service, Main Street, Andover, MA 01810.

Mr. Graceffa, who died recently, came to Andover from the Wilminston school system and had directed the local band to several award-winning performances both locally and in regional competitions. He also established out-of-state performances for the Warrior Marching band during school vacation periods.

School Groups In Joint Session

The School Building Committee and School Committee will meet in joint session tonight at 7:30 in the conference room of the Town House.

Among anticipated agenda items are continued examination of equipment purchases for the three new buildings and a review of the opening date of the Doherty Junior High School.

Lynch Is Awarded Bates Scholarship

Christopher C. Lynch, 64 Holt Road, was notified by Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, that he has been awarded the Benjamin Bates Scholarship of $3,500 to be used in the Higher Education in Europe Program.

Lynch, who recently completed his sophomore year at Bates as an economics major, will spend his junior year at the University of Bath, Bath, England. During his 10-month stay there, he will travel about England and Europe for two months.

Lynch is a 1980 graduate of Andover High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society, Student Government Day Representative, and was presented the Edward I. Ericksen Scholarship upon graduation for fine character and high moral qualities. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch.

Commemorative Stamps

Anne O'Brien of Memorial Hall Library receives new commemorative postage stamps honoring America's libraries from Andover Postmaster Edward J. Morrissey

Libraries Honored

The Andover Post Office is now issuing a new commemorative postage stamp—America's Libraries, Legacies to Mankind—according to Edward J. Morrissey, postmaster.

"In tribute to the nation's libraries, which have done more than any other instrument of American society to make the treasury of mankind's accumulated knowledge available to the people," the stamp was first issued July 13 in Philadelphia during the American Library Association convention.

Designed by Bradbury Thompson of Riverside, CT, an authority on typography, the stamp features typeface copied from a rendering of a 16th century alphabet done by Geoffroy Tory and Claude Garamond of France.

This is the second stamp of the year to call attention to the role of libraries in the United States, the first having been devoted to the Library of Congress.

How To Study Course Offered For Students

"It costs college students at least $33.00 every time they walk into a classroom! If a student doesn't use the absolute latest study techniques while in each class, he/she might just as well throw $33.33 away." These words came from Prof. R.F. Schwarz of Purdue University, who developed a "How to Study in College" course to help new college freshmen cope with the problems of adjusting to the rigors of college

This is the example that Prof. Schwarz and his colleagues use to illustrate the importance of learning good study techniques when they conduct course which will be offered at the Merrimack College Library Auditorium. Sponsored by the Andover-North Andover YMCA, the course will be held Monday through Thursday, July 26-29.

The Department of Community Services announced that it will sponsor the appearance of the Little Red Wagon/Caravan on Wednesday, July 28, at Andover's Recreation Park off Abbot Street. Based in the Department of Theater and Communication at UNH, this summer's Wagon/Caravan touring arts program involves three special vehicles criss crossing the state. Heading the fleet is the Little Red Wagon, now in its 12th year, featuring puppetry combined with story theater, music and involvement for children.

The Caravan wagons, now in their seventh year, are the popular Potpourri Wagon and the Magic of Puppetry Wagon. The Potpourri Wagon offers a family fare of stories, music and fun for all ages. The performance will start at 10 a.m. and last one hour. Admission is free to children enrolled in the playground programs; a small fee will be collected from all others. Folding chairs and blankets are recommended. In the event of rain, the performance will be held at South School.

Tsongas Aide In Lawrence

Senator Paul Tsongas is sending staff member Shirley Simons to meet with residents from Lawrence, Methuen, Haverhill, Andover and Boxford on Monday, Aug. 2, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the council chambers at Lawrence City Hall. The informal question and answer session is open to the public and no appointment is necessary. Individuals are met on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Student loans, Social Security, housing, immigration and small business loans are among the subjects that many residents have raised. "An exchange with constituents on these and many other issues is of great value to me," Senator Tsongas said. "I hope that as many citizens as possible will take advantage of the opportunity to meet with Shirley Simons."

Some of the issues that Senator Tsongas has been most active in recently have included the Japanese challenge to the high technology industry and its effect on Massachusetts' economic future, and arms control and the nuclear freeze proposal.

"The Massachusetts economy is facing one of its most serious challenges ever: the Japanese challenge to the future of our high technology industry," Tsongas emphasized. The Senator outlined in a recent speech specific steps that we must take to maintain our competitive edge in this industry. In addition, the Senator has used the occasion of recent commencements and graduations to speak out on the arms race and the nuclear weapons freeze proposal. "The economy, peace and security and the environment are all issues critical to our future and that of our children," Tsongas concluded.

Kevin Weiner, Jason Weiner, Jonah Courneau, Matt Oulette and Bryna Wills all made fantastic paperbag puppets. Tuesday, Tommy Christopher, Matt Zipeto, Bernadette Vajda and Chip Curdo had a good time playing snake in the grass and shipwreck while Eszter Vajda, Jon Ruel, Adam Friedlander, Diana Zipeto and Brenda Brightman had fun making key chains. Wednesday was a great day at the Peanut Carnival where all the kids won loads of peanuts. Thursday there was a great kickball game and some great looking paperweights were made. Friday was the usual cookout which was made even better than usual because of the giant fruit salad that was made.

West

Smiles showed on the gleaming faces of the many participants of the Whalom Park Field trip. Among the enthusiastic park goers were Adam Ferry, Layne Whitley and Sarah Ferracci. Thursday was highlighted by a stuffed animal show followed by an awards ceremony. Every animal received a prize. Cake, hot dogs, lemonade and balloons represented Friday's activities which included a birthday bash for everybody. Remember pin the nose on the clown! Leigh Abernathy, Debbie Green, Richard Green and Rachel Zenofsky were involved in decorating pet rocks on Monday. Megan Selvitelli, Carol Reid, Jenny Segal and Katie Hobbs made mosaic pictures while capture the flag was dominated by Todd Abernathy, Matt Abernathy, Adam Stanco and Adam Brent. Tuesday's schedule began with egg carton animals and coffee can banks by Ellen Keaney, Chrissy Hancock, Lynn Baker, Amy Bakr, Gail Rollins, Rich Marique and Rebecca Keaney. Crab soccer then took over with the aggressors being Ed Campbell, Lori Borron, Mark Barron and Chirs Lane. The playground was closed Wednesday for the Peanut Carnival in Central Park.

Bancroft

The third week at the Bancroft playground began with beautiful weather and high spirits. Monday there was an impressive turnout for a street hockey game. It ended 6-5. Some of the members of the winning team were Kyle Murphy, Bill Dalton and Peter Cassaletto. A few of the hard-luck losing team were Bridget Murphy, Jim Saalfrank and Kevin O'Handley. Tuesday was poster day. A huge poster was made for the Peanut Carnival. With the help of most of the young ladies of Bancroft it turned out to be a masterpiece. A game of capture the flag followed with Ryan Murphy, Jackie Dalton and Peter Cassalotto making key contributions. Wednesday was Peanut Carnival day. It was a great success. With great weather and enthusiastic attitudes, the Peanut Carnival turned out to be fun for all. Thursday was the hottest day, but the spirit did not melt. Relay races and a soccer game led the activity list. Friday was a cookout with water balloon fights. The champion of the two-week slide ball contest was Paul Allard with Ryan Hanson in second place.

Ballardvale

The Ballardvale kids biked and hike up to Poms Pond on Friday for swimming and a cookout with South School. Some of those partaking in the fun were Lisa and Rejji Hayes, Angela, Vicki and Cathy Guiliani and Willy Dunning. Monday everyone loved a game of capture the flag. Some fantastic players were Jodi Jangro and Colleen. Tuesday almost everyone went on the bike-hike trip to Rose Glen. It was a lot of fun. Wednesday was Peanut Carnival which everyone enjoyed. Bancroft Preschool

This week new playgrounders, Timmy Daran, Brian Hill, Alex Leary, Mark Peikin and Jennifer Prudden, were welcomed. We have been creating fabulous sand castles in the sand box and doing some tricky stunts on the jungle gyms. Wednesday was Indian Day and many Indian crafts were made. A totem pole was decorated, rain dances were practiced, head dresses were made and corn bread baked. We also listened to some Indian folklore stories. The favorite one was "The Girl Who Loved Wild Horses." Jewelry was made from macaroni and golden glitter.

A Baby Picture Contest was held Tuesday afternoon. It's fun to see what everyone looked like when they were little. All the pictures were terrific, so the judges had a difficult time choosing a winner. All the pictures went home with ribbons.

Everyone tried their hand at designing tee-shirts on Tuesday and some even dyed their shirts Bancroft green. It's neat to wear a tee-shirt with your own design on it. Friday we had Balloon-A-Lympics and played many games with balloons.

South

This week at South School playground has been the best ever. Thursday, because of the great weather some of the kids went to Poms Pond to join the Ballardvale playground. A few were Robert Dawley, Charlie Salvi, Ryan Evans, Chris Broudy and Scott Bernard. The rest of the children stayed and had a car wash. Some of the great scrubbers were Sherry and Amy LaPlant, Michelle and Suzanne Doucette, Joshua and Aaron Russo and Cindy and Mike Morrison. Friday all the children from Ballardvale and South went to Poms Pond for a cookout and a great day in the sun. A few of the better swimmers were Anne Murnane, Carrie Valpey, Mike Bryson and John and Jimmy Eckels. The beginning of the third week was mostly organizing and warming for the mini-olympics. The Star Dusts was captained by Mark Edelsberg and the Sickers' captain was Eliza Edelsberg. By the end of Tuesday the score was Stardusts 68-Sickers 55 and rising. Some of our more outstanding players are Kevin and Dan Hunt, Philip Meckel, Stephanie, Laurie and Glen Wilson, Michelle and Nicole Gorton and Ricky, Becky and Janan Crispo. Wednesday everyone went to the Peaut Carival at Central Park and had a ball. South's Peanut walk booth was a big hit thanks to Trina and Lauri Picardi.

Sanborn

Sanborn began the week with an enthusiastic game of outdoor hockey. Jonathan Leonard, Elaine McBrien, Sean Gauthier were a few of the many who played red rover in the bright sunshine. Beth and Brenna Cronin created beautiful god's eyes out of yarn for their mobiles. Tuesday Nicole Giammassi, Tommy Pecoraro, Shilpa Marathe and Katie McClune designed creative potato prints. All the kids pitched in to help prepare for the Peanut Carnival on Wednesday where Sanborn sold drinks and ran a pacman dart board where winners won peanuts. Thursday was a hot, sunny day and the kids enjoyed a game of kickball plus other various activities such as kick-and-run and coloring. Friday brought about the weekly cookout plus other games such as black

Tucker Calls For Forum

Sue Tucker, Democratic candidate for State Representative, announced that she is seeking a group to sponsor an open, pre-primary forum for all Democratic candidates.

"This is a crowded race, and I feel the voters deserve to hear from all candidates before the primary," Tucker stated. Traditionally, groups have held such debates before the November election but, according to Tucker, no such event has been scheduled before Sept. 14.

Tucker said that fiscal policy, environmental issues, local aid, education and other matters are critical to the future of the Commonwealth. "These matters should be discussed to give voters a clear idea where candidates stand," Tucker concluded.

On Dean's List

AT THE CHURCHES

Attend Youth Conference In New Jersey

Three Andover residents were among the teens and adult advisors who attended the United Church of Christ's Northeast Regional Youth Event at Drew University in Madison, N.J.

Andover residents were Penny Cox of 24 Canterbury St., Tim Maxfield of 111 Reservation Road, and Ellen Perry of 239 River Road.

Sponsored by the United Church's New England and Middle Atlantic regions and the denomination's Board for Homeland Ministries, the meeting offered 400 young men and women 40 diverse workshops, ranging from adolescent suicide, human sexuality and clowning to voluntary service, world peace and world hunger.

Sessions on peer group pressure, adolescent suicide, counseling a friend and cults attracted the largest attendance. Workshops on peacemaking, Bible studies, Central America and justice and human rights drew few people.

The first session to fill its quota was adolescent suicide, not because any participants had suicidal tendencies, explained a young woman, but because "our generation is under great pressure." She cited joblessness and the threat of nuclear war as tensions adding to the stress of growing up.

In other activities, the teenagers threw a gigantic birthday party in honor of the 25th anniversary of the denomination which came into being June 25, 1957, in Cleveland, OH. It is a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

JAMES J. PECK, D.C.

CHIROPRACTOR

Chiropractic and Colds

One of the pleasant benefits many patients derive from chiropractic care is an increased resistance to colds and flu. Most comment that since undergoing care the occurrence of colds and fevers seems to be greatly reduced. Though this is surprising to most patients, it is logical and can be explained.

Colds and flu are the result of bacterial or viral infections which cause the body to react to prevent any potential harm which could occur. The normal reactions include surrounding the invaders with antibodies in the bloodstream, increasing the body temperature to levels above those of viral or bacterial tolerance, and shutting down other systems to divert maximum energy to the attack. Hence the fever and malaise of a cold or flu. Chiropractic care allows the body to function at its optimum by clearing the nerve pathways in the spine and therefore allows the body's defenses to be as strong as possible, increasing one's resistance to colds and flu.

Call to arrange for a chiropractic consultation and exam.

Diet Center makes the following suggestions to ease the strain on your food dollar:

- Shop the outside aisles of your grocery store where you will find fresh fruits and vegetables, lean red meats, poultry, fish and dairy products.

- Make a list and stick to it!

- Check your newspaper for "specials." At these prices you may be able to buy meat cuts that are normally beyond your budget.

- Select lean cuts of meat, poultry and fish that provide the most for your money.

Fresh foods in season will be the highest in flavor, quality and nutrition. They are often priced lower than the prepackaged equivalents.

Include fresh foods in your list that require preparation; they are more nutritious and less expensive.

By using these ideas, Diet Center guarantees you will purchase nutritious food, reduce your waistline and grocery bill.

THANK YOU—

On behalf of Al and my family, I'd like to thank each and everyone of you for your kindness, your support, your generosity, and the overwhelming display of love and affection you have shown us over the last few months. It is very difficult to express in words what one feels in their hearts, but I'd like you to know that we shall be forever grateful.

When Al needed you, you were there, with visits and cards and flowers and laughter. But, most of all, you gave him the will to fight. It was not God's will, but I know that if love could have saved him, he would still be alive.

To "his kids"—past and present—he loved you all. He was so proud of you; just as I am. You could not have given him a finer tribute than to be with him at the end. I know he will never again be with you at concerts and competitions or on those super trips. But you were with him on his last parade.

May God bless you all for your kindness and love.

Fondly

Tiny Tot

Despite the rain Monday morning, the West Elementary tiny tots braved the weather and turned geologists to go rock collecting. With the help of brightly colored pants Hannah Edmonds, Sara Parent, Mathies Sommer, Andy Barron, Peter Ellis, Andy Small, Lacy Arsenault, Thomas Wyler, Alexa Kokinos, Chirs Logan and Tim Williamson created a farm of pet rocks. The staff would like to give a special thanks to Eric Milligan for making a flamboyant orange rock to keep at the playground. With the success of the pets, many went on to create pinecone people. Sara Parent and Lacy Arsenault showed their enthusiasm by adding pipes, bow ties and ears. Sun visors and macaroni necklaces were "in" on Tuesday, although Sara Reef, Jessica Lee Puccia, Kelley Corbett and David Pecoraro showed more interest in eating the macaroni than beading it. During the painting session, Lisa Rogers managed to cover herself from head to toe in every available color. The Peanut Carnival on Wednesday was full of fun and delicious prizes with excellent performances by all. Thursday we were visited by clowns, ghouls, cheerleaders, animals and super heroes during Halloween in July. Because of all the spectacular costumes, the following awards were issued: Best Caterpillar, Jeff Cutler; Best Cheerleader, Sara Parent; Most Original, Michelle Sheehan; Prettiest Kimono, Sara Reef; Best Fisherman, Teddy Crandell; Best Bird, Erick Earle; Bravest Cowboy, Scott Brodsky; Best Little Red Riding Hood, Lisa Rogers; Best Doll, Lee Palmer; Best Casper, Lisa Zonghetti; Biggest and Best Mask, Brian Tisbert; Funniest Clown, Jessica Lee Puccia; Best Bird Feeder Maker, Kelly Corbett; Best Made Up Face, David Peloraro; Best Climber, David Hirshberg; Best Sport, Craig Haitwell; Neatest Lunch Box, Christina McDonogh.

'Phone Company Gets Permit To Install Central St. Conduits

Concerned and angered voices were raised in town hall Monday night over a telephone company proposal to lay new conduits under Central Street and Andover Street, but it was the voice of selectmen who at the conclusion of the public hearing approved the project unanimously.

The new underground cables and wires are needed to accommodate expansion in the southwest section of town. The conduits are planned to run on the odd numbered side of the street in the sidewalk or shoulder area of Central and Andover streets. New England Telephone would repair any private driveway aprons or roadway disrupted in the process.

Charles Wright, 57 Central St., who last week suggested an alternative route for the conduits along Lupine Road, complained that the telephone company is a business proposing to impact on "my sidewalk."

But a telephone company representative noted that work will not occur on private property.

Wright said fewer residents would be affected if the conduits were put under Lupine Road, also maintaining that work on the project might compound problems anticipated when Elm Square renovations begin.

But, Selectman Gerald Silverman said the conduit work on Central Street would be done before Elm Square renovations start.

Wright also complained that telephone company officials were referring to Lupine Road as Lupian Road, and he questioned whether an alternative route had been considered.

The Lupine route would add an additional 1000 feet to the line, costing another $44,000, according to the telephone company representative. He said an alternative route would require the company to repetition the town, pushing completion of the project back to spring 1983, instead of before this winter. And he added that changing the route for the conduits might preclude the removal of above-ground lines along Central Street someday.

"This petition is in the best interests of the town and the telephone company," he said.

But Wright maintained, "If they impact on my fence they will hear about it. They have no right to impact on my property."

His feelings were shared by other Central Street residents, such as Ethel Cross, of 59 Central St. The concerns ranged from fear of damage to fences, stone walls and the trees lining their street.

One woman, who wanted assurance no damage would be done, noted, "We're all out to protect the beauty of that street."

Nancy McArdle, 47 Central St., asked, "What happens to our stone wall?"

She asked if trees were damaged, would they be replaced by the same-size trees?

Silverman noted that the telephone company has done similar work in Andover, and no complaints were ever registered. He said the company is required to provide a construction bond to the town.

The company representative explained

Winning Effort

Suzanne Gianelly checks over her certificate awarded for a first place finish in the Massachusetts section of the 1982 Hershey Track and Field meet.

Andover Youth Champ

Suzanne Gianelly, 29 Alderbrook Road, Andover, placed first in the girls softball throw while participating in the 1982 Hershey Track and Field Meet last Saturday in Braintree. Suzanne, who finished second among New England contestants, was just one of the 27 Andover youths who qualified to compete in this year's state finals.

Close to 200 youths participated in the local qualifying round which was sponsored by the Department of Community Services and the Andover Physical Education Department. The times and distances of the first-place finishers in the local meet were compared with the results of similar track meets held at the same time in 39 other Massachusetts communities. The people with the eight best times and distances of each event were then asked to Braintree to compete in the State Finals.

The results of the other Andover contestants were as follows: Boys 9-10, 200 meter run: Dan Lennon, fifth, 32.84; 400 meter relay: Matthew Perry, Jeremy Gibson, Michael DiStefano, Jeff Foley, fourth, 108.86; softball throw: Brett Hammond, fifth, 30.88; Girls 9-10, 200 meter run: Brenna Cronin, second, 32.69; 400 meter run: Cathy James, sixth, 1.25.69; softball throw: Suzanne Gianelly, first, 28.33; standing long jump: Kristen Stanko, seventh, 1.85; Boys 11-12, softball throw: David Bean, fifth, 43.05; Girls 11-12, 100 meter dash: April Williams, sixth, 14.90; 400 meter dash: Lauren DiStefano, third, 111.57; softball throw: Kellie Peters, third, 34.72; Standing long jump: Ann Stanko, seventh, 2.0; Boys 13-14, 100 meter dash: Peter Barry, third, 12.71; Girls 13-14, 100 meter dash: Windy Carothers, third, 13.6.

Program Assessment, Morale Are Goals

Asking for community support and input, the Andover School Committee has set administrative guidelines and goals for the coming year that include assessing the elementary and secondary school programs, developing a new system for budget monitoring and boosting staff morale.

Here are the goals as put forth by the committee:

1. It is imperative that a comprehensive assessment of elementary curriculum and organization be made. It is our intention that this be done with a wide range of varied inputs so that the school committee can make an informed decision as to the future course of elementary education in Andover.

2. The completion of the building program should provide us with the impetus for a thorough review of the secondary schools. This should encompass the High School

Cross Street Site Eyed For Playground

By John P. Sawyer

The nearest playground for West Andover children is located at the West Elementary School — "a driving distance," according to Diana Gould, of Grey Birch Road.

So a group of parents in the neighborhood have banded together and decided to request another play area be established.

Despite the early objection of some residents, the group may be well on its way to getting its playground.

The school committee last week gave approval for an area on High Plain Road near Cross Street — a site reserved for a future school — to be possibly used temporarily as a playground.

"We seem to have quite a bit of support," said Gould.

But back in May, a group of West Andover residents sent an unsigned letter to the TOWNSMAN claiming a playground would be a "serious detriment" to their neighborhood and might cause "our beloved homesites and lifestyles to be destroyed."

In their plea to keep out a playground, the opposition linked litter, traffic, vandalism, "drug abuse" and "teenage drinking" to the establishment of such a play area — something they said would lower the values of their homes and "the area status."

"We didn't want to upset anyone," explained Gould.

She said her group stopped consideration of a possible playground in the area that most concerned the opposition and instead set their sights on another spot further up the road.

In a letter to the Department of Community Services, Gould's group had suggested a two-acre site possibly on High Plain Road (the school site) or in the High Plain Road-Bald Hill area or near the town dump (an idea later dropped), according to Gould.

She said they had suggested the playground be modeled after Recreation Park, with a possible ball field.

The play area they are seeking, according to Gould, would be similar to the one at Pomp's Pond and "unobtrusive" for "passive recreation" — just a play area, with maybe a ball field and some swings.

The parents have sent a list of names to the Department of Community Services in support of the establishment of a playground. Gould said it is up to the Department to decide on a site.

The parents themselves plan to do some fundraising and expect to supply equipment for the play area, she said.

"We'll probably have to go out and solicit donations," Gould explained. "With Proposition 2½, we really can't expect the town to fund it."

She said she hopes the town might supply playground counselors.

Will Seek Democrat Nomination

Former Andover School Committeeman Vincent P. Davey has announced his candidacy for state representative in the 17th district.

Long an active worker for the Democratic Party at every level, Davey has served as a delegate to the Democratic State Conventions, Andover's representative/Greater Lawrence Young Democrats, as a member of the Democratic Town Committee and as the "Kennedy Secretary" (local coordinator) on the Senatorial and Presidential campaigns for both the late President John F. Kennedy and Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

He is a native of Andover and was educated in local public and parochial schools. He also attended Huntington Preparatory School and pursued graduate studies at Salem and Lowell State Colleges after graduating from Merrimack College.

Summer Art: It's In The Bag!

There are endless ways to create art and their are just as many uses for a paper bag. So it didn't take long for the children at the Vocational playground to apply their imagination and artistic talents to create Paperbag Puppets. Sponsored by the Department of Community Services, the arts and crafts project is one of many that the children will participate in this summer. Photos clockwise from bottom left: Kids gather around for instructions and equipment; Bryna Wills, 86 River St., carefully cuts out a pair of eyes for her puppet; With his puppet's face in place Brendon O'Donahue, 9 Suncrest Road, works on the body; Jonah Corneau, Andover St., glues a pair of arms on his creation; Adam Friedlander, 6 Brady Loop, gets some help cutting out pieces for his puppet from DCS Counselor Jill Normandy; Placing his puppet down with the rest of the paperbag gang is Kevin Weiner, 3 Brady Loop.

Optimism Encouraging

The optimism surrounding the September opening of the new Doherty Junior High School is indeed encouraging.

Dr. Richard McGrail, who had been serving as project co-ordinator but now returns to his post as junior high principal, reported this week that he has every reason to believe that the school will be ready for occupancy by the regular opening day of school.

While the building will not be totally complete and free of workmen on that date, it will be free of hazards or work which would be generally disruptive to the educational processes.

Barring any unforeseen difficulties, this optimism provides to the students, parents and teachers a beginning of another school year free of problems and difficulties.

With the old East Junior High now deemed unusable as an educational facility it was almost imperative that the contractors, Peabody Construction Co., provide the new facility to the town in time for the resumption of classes. Failure to do so would result in some rather accelerated planning for the new year for all junior high students. There was the possibility of double sessions, a shuffling of students from one building to another throughout the town, and basically a lot of inconvenience at the cost of disruption to a smooth learning process.

There was also the possibility that the double sessions and shuffling of students would have to be carried through until after the Christmas recess, since school officials are reluctant to move students and staff at less than half-year intervals.

What will be needed when classes resume in September at Doherty is an acceptance of the fact that there still may be some inconveniences, due primarily to the finishing work remaining within the general educational plant.

There will also be some additional construction work going on in the Memorial Auditorium wing, but this will not affect the classroom programs.

But these are minor annoyances to contend with when the alternative to not having the facility available is considered.

From all appearances, the town is about to have a new secondary educational facility, delivered on time and ready to meet the needs of modern educational processes for many years to come.

The construction company has met its schedule and its work has been supervised carefully by those appointed by the town to insure proper conformance to specifications.

The air of optimism about its availability for a September opening can almost be considered a reward for the decade of planning and promise that has gone into this particular portion of the total school project.

The Public Forum

Cohen Praised

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Massachusetts begins its 1983 Fiscal Year with a state budget in place which addresses many of the major concerns of the people of the Commonwealth. And an important share of the credit for this year's successful and smooth budgetmaking process is due to Representative Gerald M. Cohen of your district.

It is important to understand that close to two billion dollars, or nearly one-third of the entire state operating budget, will be returned to local cities and towns through either direct dollar aid or through programs paid for by the State. This includes $155 million in new state aid to cities and towns this year, 80 percent of that in cash assistance.

Also included in the Fiscal 1983 budget are a series of provisions designed to improve the delivery of various state services. For example, a pilot program of personnel reforms has been instituted. Additional funds have been allocated for the Office of the Handicapped; for state agricultural development; for safe housing, rental assistance and fuel assistance for the elderly. State aid to libraries has been increased. And public higher education budgets have been increased by more than $43 million.

There are literally hundreds of other such items which we hope will aid the local property taxpayer and the users of public services.

Many other dollars have been earmarked to help offset expected cutbacks in Federal aid to local, regional and state programs.

Your Representative has played a key and positive role in helping make this year's budget effort a successful one.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Doctors battle FTC move to deflate medical costsBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — One of the ways that health-care costs are driven up is the medical profession's tendency to gang up on doctors who offer cut-rate services. Competition is supposed to be the American way, but not when it comes to medical costs.

Doctors who advertise their fees are drummed out of the corps. Doctors who work on salary in low-cost, prepaid health-maintenance programs are blacklisted by their local medical associations. They are not allowed to use the local hospitals controlled by the medical establishment.

All of this not only costs the public money, it is probably illegal. At least the Federal Trade Commission thinks it is.

So the FTC has repeatedly filed suit against the American Medical Association (AMA) and its state affiliates. The agency accuses the medical establishment of conspiracy to violate anti-trust laws.

And the FTC has had some success. Recently, it nailed the Texas Dental Association in a case involving patient X-rays. It has also forced the AMA to lift its restrictions on advertising by doctors.

But now a group of senators, led by Robert Kasten, R-Wis., and James McClure, R-Idaho, are trying to keep the FTC from going after doctors and other professionals. The senators want to forbid the agency from even looking into the activities of doctors, dentists, veterinarians, lawyers and accountants.

So far, the new, conservative chairman of the FTC, James Miller, has stood up to the medical profession's lobbying efforts. So has President Reagan. They have refused to support the Senate effort to clip the FTC's wings.

If the FTC can be called off, it means big bucks to the doctors and dentists. So they are willing to lay out big bucks to help cut down the FTC. Since 1979, the medical profession has given $830,000 to the campaigns of House and Senate members who support their position.

The doctors obviously hope this will be a prescription for success. If they're right, the money will come out of the consumers' pockets.

MIDDLE-EAST DILEMMA: American troops may soon be landing in Lebanon. No one is happy about it.

Top advisers to President Reagan don't like the idea. Congressional leaders have agreed to go along with great reluctance. So how is it that American troops may be sent in over all this opposition? Our sources say that the president's Middle-East troubleshooter, Philip Habib, is convinced that the presence of U.S. troops is the only way to stop the Israelis from moving into West Beirut.

Obviously, the big worry is that American soldiers will get caught in the cross-fire. But there is another worry: American troops won't be able to protect the half-million or so Palestinian refugees who are left behind after Palestine Liberation Organization military forces are escorted out of Lebanon.

Government sources say that what they are afraid of is a battle like that which occurred in 1975 at a place called Tel Zaatar. This was a Palestinian stronghold that was captured by Christian forces in the Lebanese war. Hundreds were killed on both sides.

President Reagan's advisers figure that American troops can protect the Palestinian civilians as long as they're there. But administration officials fear that a bloodbath could occur after the U.S. soldiers leave.

This means that either our troops will have to stay in Lebanon indefinitely, or the United States will be blamed for any bloodshed that occurs after they leave.

The Israelis, meanwhile, have not been twiddling their thumbs while PLO leaders make up their minds whether to leave West Beirut. Some Israeli troops reportedly have infiltrated Palestinian hideouts. The Israelis want to be ready to pinpoint their targets if the negotiations collapse. That way they hope to be able to knock out PLO strongholds without heavy civilian casualties.

FUN ON THE FOURTH: Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, Rep. Marc Marks, R-Pa., Federal Communications Commissioner Anne Jones and a host of other officials enjoyed a Fourth of July sojourn to Switzerland — courtesy of several Washington lobbyists who wanted to influence their guests.

The luminaries who participated in the "telecommunications conference" were treated to cocktail parties, moonlight cruises, tennis, skiing and even a jazz festival.

The Commerce Department's general counsel, Sherman Unger, told our reporter there was no conflict of interest for the officials who went on the trip.

Of course not. Unger went on the trip, too.

WHAT UNEMPLOYMENT?: Reagan administration officials have found a new way to handle the unemployment crisis: Pretend it doesn't exist. According to our sources, the Labor Department has quit keeping statistics on new job layoffs. Officials say the move is to save money, although there is still enough in the till to keep tabs on labor unions.

Ceiling fans are experiencing a resurgence of popularity during these energy conscious times. Not only do they move trapped, heated air during winter from ceiling to the living area, but they also have a cooling effect in summer. However, it is important to select the correct size fan for your application. For example, a 10x10' room should have a 36-38" diameter blade span while a 15x20' room requires a 48-54" diameter fan. Install the fan so it extends 12-14" from the ceiling and allow seven feet of clearance to the floor. Ceiling fans generally are made with either a direct or friction-drive motor. The direct drive is more efficient because there are fewer moving parts.

A ceiling fan can complete the total picture in your kitchen. You say you want to remodel your kitchen first! Stop in and see us, WINDSOR KITCHENS, and browse through our brand new showroom for ideas. We have decorator services available from walls and lighting to floorcoverings. Youngsters Meet Stars At Jerry Remy Camp

Denny Palmer, 115 Summer St.

Some people say football, with its heavy hitting and fast-paced action, has replaced the grand old game as America's favorite pastime.

Better think again.

Some people say kids aren't the same anymore. They're too busy playing Pac-Man and Defender. They're watching too much television.

Don't be so sure.

Some things never change — such as the elation on a boy's face when he slaps a single to center field. When he beats the throw to second for a steal.

When he gets to meet his baseball heroes in real life.

The Jerry Remy All-American Baseball Camp held at Merrimack College last week demonstrated the love for a game played by little leaguers who would-be stars for the Red Sox some day, just like Jerry Remy, Dave Stapleton and others who attended the instructional camp.

They dream about it every night, just like Sean Gill, 19 Korinthian Way.

"I practice against my garage door every day," he said, revealing his aspiration to be a pro.

"I'm going to give it my all," added Chris Landers, 8 Bridle Path Road.

They played hard all week; game after game in the hot sun did not curtail the enthusiasm...especially when they gathered around the pros to listen to a few words of wisdom.

Walt Hriniaik, Red Sox batting coach, knew what he was talking about.

He told the kids that winning and losing is often stressed too much, and that for them, the most important thing was to try your best. Not everyone can be a Carl Yastrzemski, but as long as you do your best, you will be a success in anything you do.

They listened to Remy, Stapleton and Hriniaik, and of course, they asked questions.

Who was Hriniaik's favorite player ever? Ted Williams.

Who did he think has the best swing in baseball today? George Brett, of the Kansas City Royals.

And who was the most improved hitter he has coached? Jerry Remy.

"They seem like really nice people," said Sean Gill, giving his impression of the major league stars he met last week.

Gill, Landers, Brian MacIntire, 4 Buchanan Road, and Steve Mollineaux, 18 Elysian Drive, all were in agreement. They love the game. It's still the number one sport. And they're all hopeful of someday making it to the major leagues.

They're going to try their best.

And practice against the garage door.

Those are the important things...

Red Sox first baseman Dave Stapleton talks to the players.

All-Stars Win, Lose in Tourney

The American League All-Star Team opened tournament play with a convincing 19-3 trouncing of a shell-shocked Newburyport All-Star team before being eliminated from further tournament play by the defending division champion Billerica Nationals by the slim margin of one run, dropping an 8-7 heartbreaker in Billerica.

The Andover American's received fine pitching from their two starting pitchers, Mike Lane and John Moosa, who combined to allow only six hits in the two contests. Matt Gibson paced the offense going 6-for-6 and knocking in seven runs in the two games.

Andover Americans 19 Newburyport 3

The Andover squad was simply too strong for their Newburyport counterparts as they erupted for 15 hits enroute to the lop-sided victory which was halted after five innings of play. After managing one run in the first, Andover erupted for nine in the second to all but ice the win. Scott Wallace led off with a walk, stole second and scored on Matt Gibson's single. Andy Peck followed with a walk and Gibson and Peck then scored on Chris Nelson's long home run to left-center. John Moosa doubled and he scored on Chris Concemi's towering home run to deep center—six batters, six runs. After walks to Tim Smith and Scott Wallace, Tom Tormey lined a sharp single to left to load the bases. Gibson then followed with his second hit of the inning, a double to center, to clean the bases. Andover continued the onslaught with five more runs in the third on Smith's second walk and singles by Mike Lane, Tormey's second of the game, Wallace and Gibson's third hit of the contest. They added two more in the fourth on a long double by Moosa, a misplay of Lane's ground ball and some alert baserunning. They closed out the scoring with two more in the fifth on back-to-back singles by David Vickers and Gibson, a stolen base and two Newburyport miscues.

Lane started on the mound for Andover and pitched no-hit ball for three and one-third innings before surrendering a double to shortstop Tom Donovan for Newburyport's only hit in the contest. Lane struck out nine in the four innings he worked but experienced a streak of wildness in the third as he walked seven to account for all of the opposition's scoring. He settled down in the fourth after surrendering the hit by Donovan to strike out the side. Greg DeVoir came on to pitch the last inning and retired the side, facing only four batters.

Gibson paced the offense with a perfect (4-for-4) night at the plate and five RBIs, three coming on a bases-clearing double. Chris Nelson and Chris Concemi each had a home run and single in three trips while others with more than one hit were Moosa (two doubles) and Tom Tormey (two singles). Lane, Vickers and Wallace each added a single safety to the attack.

Billerica National's - 8 Andover American's 7

A courageous, all-out five-run rally in the sixth inning brought the large crowd to its feet, but fell one run short as Andover dropped an 8-7 decision to the defending champion Billerica National's. The Andover rally had the previously confident Billerica fans on the edge of their seats and earned the squad a standing ovation as the team left the field at the end of play. It was one of the most valiant and spirited efforts seen in any level of play in recent years.

Billerica started their ace, Paul Doherty, on the mound and he baffled Andover hitters until John Moosa reached him for a single in the third to drive in David Vickers, who had reached on an error, with the first Andover run. Meanwhile, Billerica had jumped out to the lead with two runs on one hit and three errors in their half of the second. They added to the lead with two more in the fourth on a walk, an error, two stolen bases and catcher Tony Fernia's double.

Andover came back with another solo run in the top of the fifth as Pat Breen singled and Matt Gibson laid down a perfect bunt which he beat out for a hit, putting Breen on second and himself on first. A sacrifice by Vickers moved the runners over and Breen scored on Tim Smith's long sacrifice fly to center, cutting the Billerica lead to 4-2.

Billerica stormed right back in the fifth and appeared to put the game away as they pushed across four runs on two singles, Doherty's double and some sloppy Andover fielding.

With the home team apparently having things under control with a six-run, 8-2 lead entering the last inning, many of the Billerica fans began the postgame celebration which the never-say-die Andover squad quickly halted with their inspired and gutsy five-run, six-hit rally. Prior to this, Doherty had permitted only four Andover hits. Chris Concemi and Mike Lane opened the inning with line singles to left. Alan Reeder then blasted a long double to center, scoring Concemi and Lane. Breen's second of the game scored Reeder, with the speedy Breen taking second on the throw to the plate. Matt Gibson then lined his second hit to center driving in Breen and taking second on the attempt to get Breen. David Vickers' double to right center scored Gibson with the fifth run of the inning and by now the noise from the crowd was deafening. Doherty, however, settled down after the six-hit barrage and managed to retire the last batter to preserve the 8-7 victory for Billerica.

Big John Moosa started and went the distance for Andover and deserved a much better fate. The hard-throwing righthander allowed only five hits while striking out nine and walking only two. Only two of the eight Billerica runs off Moosa were earned.

Offensively, Gibson, with his second perfect game at the plate, had two hits and two RBIs while Breen and Lane each added two hits. Other Andover hitters were Alan Reeder and David Vickers, each with a key double in the sixth, and John Moosa with a single in the third.

Andover Gold Wins Second Title

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team won its second straight Greater-Lawrence League championship, clinching the 1982 regular season title by chalking up four impressive victories last week on the strength of outstanding pitching, timely hitting and consistently sharp defense.

Bouncing back from a tough loss to Prospect Hill, Gold outscored four opponents by a 27-3 margin enroute to wins over South Lawrence East (3-0), Andover Blue (11-0), runnerup South Lawrence West (3-2) and Prospect Hill (10-1).

The unqualified offensive star of the stretch run was John Leahy, whose three-run sixth inning homer broke up a scoreless pitcher's duel against SLE, and whose clutch two-run single drove home the tying and winning runs against SLW in the sixth as Gold came from behind for the sixth time this season.

Billy Lane fired a one-hit shutout and a three-hitter on the mound. Bill Weidman hurled a four-hit shutout with 10 strikeouts, and Mark Grams tossed a courageous seven-hitter in the key clash with SLW.

The only bad news came early in the Prospect Hill game, when catcher Shane Smith broke a finger on his left hand sliding into second base.

Shane, who has put together an outstanding year defensively behind the plate, will be lost to the Gold for two weeks.

The four recent victories left Andover Gold at 16-2 in the league, 18-3 overall, 29-2 in its last 31 league games and 58-8 in its last 66 starts.

Gold wrapped up regular season activity this week with a pair of meaningless games against Prospect Hill and South Lawrence West (tomorrow).

The superb one-hit shutout pitching of Billy Lane, whose work on the mound has been a pleasant surprise all season, and a clutch three-run homer by John Leahy in the bottom of the sixth, combined to lift Andover Gold to its 3-0 victory and a season series sweep of South Lawrence East at the Andover High field.

Lane, who had not pitched competitively at the Babe Ruth level prior to this summer, struck out a personal high seven, walked three and permitted only a soft line drive single to leftfield by Joe Cutrona to lead off the fourth.

Lane, who earlier this year tossed a two-hitter against Prospect Hill, lifted his record to 4-1 in the league and 5-1 overall.

Hard-luck loser John Gagnon fashioned a four-hitter for SLE, and also had a no-hitter working until the fourth when Kraig Burzlaff singled.

Mark Doherty added a fifth inning single for Gold, and then the home team broke the scoreless struggle in the sixth.

Earl Abdoo opened the sixth by drawing a walk, and then Lane beat out a bunt single.

Burzlaff forced pinch-runner Pete Quintal at third when he tried to lay down a sacrifice bunt, but then John Leahy belted a two-strike pitch to the right-centerfield gap for a 350-foot three-run homer.

East had one runner aboard in every inning but the sixth, as Lane also hit one batter and Gold committed one error.

The only serious threat came in the fourth, however, when Cutrona stole second and third base after singling but was left stranded.

Catcher Shane Smith was a defensive standout for Andover Gold.

Andover Gold, 11-0

Gold made it two straight shutouts and six for the season as its white-washed Andover Blue behind the strong pitching of righthander Bill Weidman.

Weidman, 4-0 with two saves, allowed just four singles and struck out a season-high 10 batters (including the side in the fifth). He also didn't walk anyone, and now has issued just one free pass in his last 31 innings.

Gold scored twice in the first, twice in the fourth, three times in the fifth and four times in the sixth.

Blue mounted its most serious bid in the top of the first on consecutive two-out singles by John Nuzzo and Jeff Penner, but a sharp two-hopper to Kraig Burzlaff at second base ended the innings.

Mark Grams led the Gold first with a walk, both runners were safe when Scott Wilkins laid down a bunt and the throw to second was late, and then Billy Lane sacrificed the men into scoring position.

Grams scored the first run by beating the throw home on John Leahy's infield grounder, and Burzlaff rescued Wilkins with a perfect suicide squeeze bunt.

In the Gold fourth Weidman singled, Mark Doherty walked and Grams ripped a two-run triple down the rightfield line.

Leahy opened the fifth by drawing a walk, Burzlaff lashed a single to centerfield, Weidman stroked a two-run double down the leftfield line, and Grams spanked an RBI single to make it 7-0.

Four walks to Earl Abdoo, Grams, Pete Quintal and Ray Rourke, a double to rightfield by Gerry Nassif, and a run-scoring infield single by Kevin Rourke highlighted the four-run sixth.

Grams and Weidman laced two hits apiece in the game, while Weidman scored three runs.

Jeff Penner remained tough on the Gold with a pair of singles, while Robby Carpentier slapped an opposite-field single to left.

Catcher Shane Smith and second baseman Burzlaff played well defensively for the winners, while Carpentier at shortstop and Bob Rikeman behind the plate were sharp in the field for the Blue.

Andover Gold, 3-2

John Leahy once again showed his flair for the dramatic, producing his fifth game-winning hit of the season as Gold rallied for three runs in the bottom of the sixth to edge 1982 arch-rival South Lawrence West at the Andover High field.

SLW righthander Vin DelSignore had stymied the defending champs on just two hits, both singles by Mark Doherty, over the first five innings as he made a pair of first inning runs stand up.

Mark Grams, who had jammed his right wrist the night before in an unsuccessful attempt to dive back to third base against the Blue, turned in a gutsy pitching performance despite the injury.

The highly-competitive righthander, who hiked his record to 6-1 in the league and 6-2 overall, finished with a seven-hitter while striking out seven (23 in the last three games) and walking only two.

SLW bolted to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first. After Grams fanned the first two batters, Bill Baillargeon stung a line drive single to centerfield, DelSignore dropped an RBI double just out of the reach of Gold outfielders John Leahy and Kevin Rourke, and Dan Buote followed with a ground ball single to left that plated DelSignore.

Gold had just three baserunners in the first five frames, none of whom advanced beyond first base.

Grams had little trouble with West until the top of the fifth, when Matt Barger and Baillargeon spanked back-to-back two-out singles and moved into scoring position on a wild pitch.

Grams bore down at this point, however, and induced the dangerous DelSignore to pop out to shortstop Billy Lane ending the threat.

Grams led off the bottom of the sixth with a line drive double to centerfield, Scott Wilkins walked, and Lane moved the runners up with a fine sacrifice bunt.

Kraiz Burzlaff then bounced a clutch RBI single up the middle to make it 2-1, setting the stage for John Leahy's game-winning two-run single.

Leahy went down on the count two strikes quickly, fought off a couple tough pitches from DelSignore, then drilled his key single to right-centerfield to plate Wilkins and Burzlaff.

SLW threatened in the top of the seventh when pesky Glenn McIntosh slapped a one-out double to left-centerfield. But here again Leahy came to the rescue, hustling to the gap and cutting the ball off to prevent the speedy West shortstop from getting a triple or possibly a homerun.

McIntosh proceeded to steal third base, but Grams whiffed Bergeron and clinched the important victory by getting Baillargeon on a grounder to first baseman Bill Weidman.

Once again Shane Smith was solid behind the plate, Weidman made several nice plays at first, and leftfielder Kevin Rourke tracked down a deep fly by Buote to open the sixth inning.

Mark Doherty went 2-for-2 as DelSignore finished with a five-hitter, walking two and striking out four.

Andover Gold, 10-1

Billy Lane came through with yet another standout pitching effort, and Gold hammered out 11 hits against a pair of Prospect Hill hurlers to officially clinch its second straight league championship.

Lane, in boosting his record to 6-1 overall, permitted just three singles, walked two and struck out four.

He had some stellar defensive support from Mark Grams, who robbed Dino Privitera of a basehit in the first with a diving stop at short, and later replaced the injured Shane Smith at catcher and picked off a Prospect Hill runner at first.

Gold hopped to a 4-0 lead in the second when John Leahy drew a leadoff walk, Mark Doherty drilled an RBI triple to leftfield, Bill Weidman walked and stole second, Kevin Rourke slapped a two-run single to left, and Grams singled home Rourke who had stolen second.

In the third Lane slammed a leadoff single to left-center, stole second and scored on Kraig Burzlaff's sharp single. Leahy tripled home Burzlaff with a long blast to rightfield, and Weidman's two-out double to left rescued Leahy.

Prospect Hill collected an unearned run in the third when Dave Guittierez walked, took third on Barry Cardillo's single, and scored when Cardillo stole second and the catcher's throw sailed into centerfield.

Cardillo tried to core moments later on Dino Privitera's single to right, but he was cut down on a relay from Scott Wilkins to Weidman to the ever-present Grams.

Grams opened the fourth with a long homerun to centerfield, his third of the season, and later in the stanza Kraig Burzlaff singled, took second on a passed ball and scored on a double throwing error during a pickoff attempt.

The final Gold run came in the fifth when Doherty lashed a one-out double down the leftfield line and cored on Rourke's single.

Grams finished the game 2-for-2 and was on base four times (two walks), Rourke went 2-for-3 with three RBI, Doherty was 2-for-3 with a double and triple, Burzlaff 2-for-3 and Lane 2-for-4.

Eric Suliveras added an infield single for Prospect Hill, which only advanced two runners beyond first base.

Chris Colsia made several fine plays in his debut at shortstop for the Gold.

Clean Water

Forty-five percent of Massachusetts' major river mileage is suitable for fishing and swimming, according to a report from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

"It is important to note that only major streams are assessed in the clean water report. If smaller streams were considered the swimmable percentage would be much higher," Paul Keough, EPA senior policy advisor explained.

The report shows that the percentage of swimmable waters in Massachusetts has improved by 25 percent in the past four years. This is the most improvement of any state in New England.

When all six states are assessed the report shows that 67 percent of the region's major streams are meeting the fishable standard. This represents an overall improvement of 11 percent since 1976.

In Massachusetts, the 1983 figure will be 60 percent.

"The principal reason for such great progress has been the building of municipal sewage treatment plants. Cities, towns and industries that used to discharge directly into rivers are now tied into treatment systems, as a result our rivers are becoming much less polluted. This progress has not come cheap, however. EPA since the Clean Water Act of 1972 has allotted $2.3 billion to the New England states to construct treatment plants. And that represents only 75 percent of the cost of the treatment works. Our states and local communities have also invested hundreds of millions of dollars. And, the private sector has also expended a good deal of money on this effort," Keough stated.

Diving Safely

Diving accidents cause some 500 spinal cord injuries a year, principally in lakes and streams rather than man-made pools, and can be reduced by diver training.

The overwhelming majority of these diving injuries occur in shallow water and their victims are largely males between the ages of 13 and 23.

"Since approximately 95 percent of the serious diving accidents occur in shallow water, three-fourths of which occur in lakes, streams and other natural environments, young swimmers must be taught diving techniques. The best place to do this is in a controlled environment such as a swimming pool," says George Estella, president of the New England Chapter of the National Spa and Pool Institute.

ABC-TV's "20/20" program recently illustrated potential diving problems.

"We agree with '20/20's' Geraldo Rivera when he says know what you're jumping into, dive correctly and never, never lead with your head when jumping into an above-ground pool," says Estella.

"Only through increased public awareness of the serious risks involved in diving improperly, and a good understanding of diving techniques can we reduce these serious neck injuries."

Participating members of the National Spa & Pool Institute have a brochure available on diving tips which is based on the recent national studies conducted through the National Swimming Pool Foundation. To obtain the free brochure, write to National Spa & Pool Institute, 2000 K St., NW, Washington, DC 20006.

ON CHECKING ATTICS

If you are inspecting a house with an attic, do more than ask if there is one — get up there, walk around and inspect it. You can learn a lot with just a few simple checks.

For instance, you can check to see if the beams are really solid? If the point of a penknife sinks in easily, the wood may be either rotten or termite-infested. Timbers with ends embedded in masonry without proper air spaces are especially vulnerable to rot. Sight along the beams to see whether any have sagged or warped. Also, check the rafters or roofing boards for water stains.

Is there sufficient ventilation in the attic? At a minimum, it should have louvers in both gable ends, vents under the eaves or ridge vents in the roof. If the ventilation is inadequate, you can bet on wood rot — and there will be heat loss in the winter, heat retention in the summer and bigger utility bills in both seasons.

How about insulation? An attic floor should have at least six inches of insulation plus a vapor barrier under the insulation.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Conduits

that doing a satisfactory job was a "genuine concern" to the company. He said when excavation occurs near any tree, the work will be done by hand.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said the town will supervise the digging around trees. Silverman said, "This is like calling in a specialist for a minor operation."

A letter from the town's director of public works explained, "The telephone company installed a similar conduit in Hidden and Porter Road. As you are aware, these are small country roads with many large trees, and construction of the conduit was accomplished with minimum conflict with the abutting residents, and the existing trees were preserved."

Donald Penny, 65 Central St., wanted to know why the conduits could not run underneath the middle of the street, rather than in the sidewalk or shoulder area.

The town engineer explained there would be complications with water mains, sewer and gas lines.

Silverman maintained, "This is the way we do it." He added, "The sidewalks are town sidewalks," maintaining that the work will not be infringing on anyone's rights.

Robert Goodwin, 82 Central St., was unopposed to the project occurring on his street. He did say an official from the gas company should be present when the digging is done.

The telephone company representative noted that all utilities must be notified 72 hours before excavation.

"Their lines...will be marked out for us," he said.

Selectmen voted 4-0 (Silverman, William Dalton, Donn Byrne, Edward Harris) in favor of putting the conduits under Central Street.

An alternative route for the conduits, according to the director of public works, would present problems.

"We have reviewed School Street and location of the property for the letter reads. "The same utility problem exists in the roadway requiring the conduit to be placed in the sidewalk area. In the case of School Street, the problem is further complicated due to the existing trees and the stone walls of the cemetery on each side of the roadway."

Goals

Accreditation Report, the educational and philosophical thrust at both the Doherty and West, maximum utilization of the new physical facilities and curriculum development.

3. Program advisors in the major academic disciplines are entering their second year. It is important that their role in the educational process be reviewed and refined and their duties and responsibilities vis-a-vis the building principals brought into clearer focus.

4. We need to continue work on our drug and alcohol abuse program. This is an area where community participation is essential. The school system's problems mirror society's.

5. There is a need for developing a new system for monitoring the budget, both for the short and long term. Our goal is to develop a three or four-year financial plan and to work closely with other town officials in defining the most appropriate financial model.

6. The uncertainties of recent times make it necessary to provide some degree of stability to raise staff morale at all levels. The unique resources that we have in our fine staff must be encouraged to grow, to take an even greater part in the whole educational process, and to truly feel part of a whole.

In addition, we must continue our efforts toward energy conservation and review of our custodial and maintenance management system. An update on town demographics and building needs through the eighties is also in order.

All of these concerns have been addressed in some form or another in recent times, but it is time for a fresh look and intense scrutiny.
